

TERMS:
One year delivered in city by carrier.....$9.00
Three months, if paid in advance.....3.00
By post by mail, in advance.....5.00
Rate of year at same rate.

JOB PRINTING.
Book and every description of Commercial and Law printing, in the best manner at Gazette Job Office.

Entered at the Post Office at Janesville, Wis., as second-class matter.

Maine is a poor State for gubernatorial fruits.

Sherman is ahead in Ohio, but Blaine has captured Indiana.

Whenever Tilden thinks of his nomination
next summer he thinks he stands six feet high, is only 45, and weighs 200 pounds.

The South Bend Tribune says the first blood was spilled in the Maine Legislature on last Friday afternoon, when one of the Fusionists sat down on a bent pin.

The Fusion Legislature of Maine is on the down hill grade. In twenty-four hours it went from the capitol building to a back room down town where it held a secret caucus.

There are no less than twenty candidates for Governor in Illinois already, and twenty more are expected to rise up during the winter. This is an average year for candidates in that State.

The imports to the United States from the Consular District of Hamilton, Canada,
for 1879, as reported by Frank Leland,
United States Consul, was $2,148,992.17,
being an increase of more than $700,000 over 1878.

That time-honored resolution to cut off all new business in the legislature the first week of February, has been offered. It would be a creditable thing for the Legislature to adopt that resolution and then stick to it.

"Governor" Smith, of Maine, was unfortunate. He was Governor about forty-eight hours, and during that time did not even draw pay, neither could he find anybody who would obey his orders or recognize his authority.

The Chicago Times now endorses E. B.
Washburne for the Presidency. About two months ago it endorsed Judge Davis. The Times is casting about for a financially strong candidate—one who can be easily dazzled by the Presidential prize, and who will open his barrel accordingly.

In the next edition of Webster's dictionary, we may expect to find the definition of the word Garcon to be, "to steal, to defraud, to disfranchise honest voters, to set one's self up as being bigger than a supreme court." Synonyms—Tilden, Cronin, Tweed, Pelton, Pillsbury.

John W. Foster, of Indiana, who has been nominated for the Russian Mission has been Minister to Mexico since 1873 having been appointed in March of that year. He never held any other important public position. He leaves a $12,000 Mission for one of $17,500.

It will be seen by our telegraphic dispatches that the jury in the Hayden murder case have been discharged, being unable to agree upon a verdict. They were out three days and three nights. On the last ballot all the jurors but one were in favor of bringing in a verdict of not guilty.

Congressman Bellori, of Colorado, has given the Indian question some consideration and investigation, and he finds that since the organization of the Government
nine hundred and twenty-nine treaties have been made with 377 tribes of Indians.
There are about 240,000 Indians in the United States, and the extent of their reservations reaches 151,000,000 acres. This will give every Indian nearly one square mile of land.

Signor Campanian, who is now taking the musical population of Chicago by storm, is the greatest of all living tenors.
He was born in Italy in 1846. He made his debut in Russia. Since then he has captivated immense audiences in all the great cities of the world. He came to this country in 1873, and has spent much of the time here since. He is intelligent, unaffected, kind and generous, lives modestly, does not dissipate, and likes America and its institutions. He makes about $40,000 a year by his voice alone, and is a practical business man.

The many friends of ex-Governor Fairchild in this State will be glad to hear of his rapid promotion. Within twenty years he has done much. At one time he was Clerk of the Circuit Court of Dane county.
In 1861 he entered the army and was successively commissioned Captain, Major,
Lieutenant-Colonel, and Brigadier General.
He lost his left arm at Gettysburg in 1863.
He was elected Secretary of State in 1869; in 1865 was elected Governor, and held the office six years, a longer time than any other Governor of Wisconsin. In 1871
President Grant gave him the Liverpool consulate, and nearly two years ago President Hayes nominated him for Consul-General of Paris, and now he rises to the dignity of Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Spain. He is now only 48 years old.

EX-SENATOR HOWE AND THE THIRD TERM.

Ex-Senator T. O. Howe, of this State, has contributed an article to the February
number of the North American Review, on "The Third Term," which contains quite a number of historical facts of much interest, and which the leading spirits of the Democratic party might read with profit. The text for the article is a resolution presented by Mr. Springer, of Illinois, and adopted by the House of Representatives on the 15th day of December 1875, which in substance reads "that in the opinion of this House the precedent established by Washington and other Presidents in retiring from the Presiden-

THE JAMESVILLE GAZETTE.

VOLUME 23

JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, TUESDAY, JANUARY 20, 1880.

NUMBER 268

EXCITING SCENES

In the Capitol Building at Augusta, Maine.The Republicans Anticipating an Attack from the Fusion Mob,Prepare a Large Force of Armed Police to Meet
Them.Exciting Scenes in the Corridors of the Capitol.Governor Davis Now in Full Control of the Capitol,And Has a Strong Force of Armed Men on Police
Duty.Another Terrible Conflagration
in Tokio, Japan.Fifty Thousand Homes Destroyed by the Flames.Fifty Thousands Persons Are Rendered Destitute,While It Is Reckoned that One Hundred Persons Were Burned to Death.The Jury in the Hayden Case
Disagree.Old Fort Crawford Destroyed
by Fire.

Other Interesting News Items.

MAINE BUSINESS.

Special to the Gazette.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 20.—The safe in the Secretary of State's office was broken open last night, and neither the seal of the State nor the returns were found. The Fusionists say they will only seek to recover power through the courts of Congress.Both branches of the Legislature have settled down to business.

MAINE.

Extraordinary Scenes in the Capitol
Building at Augusta.BOSTON, Jan. 19.—The Herald's Augusta
special says: "The scenes inside the State House during the afternoon hours were extraordinary. The granite walls of the old structure resembled a feudal castle awaiting an attack. In every passage way, from subterranean regions up to the roof,
were policemen armed with revolvers.
Policemen challenged the steps of the exceedingly few persons who had by special favor, gained admittance. A double guard protected the Governor's room.
The spacious rotunda below was swarming with men, and when anyone succeeded in getting past the guards at the step gate he was admitted to the State House without scrutiny from the vigilant sentinels who loomed the carefully locked doors. The younger guardsmen on duty did not hesitate to show their revolvers, and were anticipating with youthful ardor a hot contest with the Fusionist forces, whom they believed were about to arrive by railroad. A special force of 120 or more men was detailed to stand guard on the balcony fronting State street. Just before the arrival of the Fusion Legislature on the sidewalk below this balcony, the force was ordered into the hall of the house, where they were drawn up in military order and divided into squads. General Charles Mattuck, of Portland, was in command of the contingent, and he appointed Major A.
Benson, of Portland his Adjutant. When the guard were about to move out to the balcony, General Mattuck commanded them to 'stand at ease,' leaving the measured tread of so many men would be heard by the Fusionists on the sidewalk, 300 feet distant; so when the men went out they broke step, and succeeded in making no unnecessary noise.
They were all armed with revolvers, and from their elevated position in the lofty balcony could have guarded the steps leading from the State House against a force of ten times their own number. When the Fusionists departed the vigilance of the guard was not relaxed. Never, in the entire period of this remarkable condition of affairs, was the State House more strictly guarded.Governor Davis has placed the State House defense in charge of Major J. E.
Nye, who had been General Chamberlain's Adjutant General, although Mayor Nash was nominally in command of the police forces.

JAPAN.

Another Terrible Conflagration in Tokio—Death and Destruction.
Tokio, Japan, Dec. 20.—The third desastrous conflagration within seven years occurred to-day. Miles of ground were laid waste, 15,000 homes were destroyed, 50,000 persons are rendered destitute. The actual pecuniary loss is undetermined as yet. The loss of life is estimated at 100, although nothing is certainly known. The progress of the flames were so rapid as to overtake and destroy many who could give no sign.
In several instances numerous unrecognizable bodies or fragments were found among the ruins, and as many again died from ex-posure and cold, as the night succeeding the fire was exceptionally bitter.
As happened twice before in the great fires, a considerable part of the foreign district was destroyed, including several missionary establishments, one church, and one foreign newspaper office, the Tokio Times.
The legation of the United States was in danger, but escaped unharmed.
Extraordinary measures of relief were instituted by the government authorities

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Legislative Mill Has Commenced Custom Grinding.The Grists of Customers Unloaded in the Capitol Building To-Day.Speaker Arnold's Appointment of Standing Committees.The First Day's Work Opens Up Well.

FROM MADISON.

Special to the Gazette.

A Memorial to Congress passed for the extension of the improvement at Port Washington harbor. The assembly joint resolution congratulating the Republicans of Maine, laid over till morning.Memorial to Congress passed asking for light house at the entrance of Sturgeon Bay Canal.A Petition offered for local option of dog tax law.A resolution was offered requiring the Fish Commissioner and the Governor to lay before the Legislature all communications and proceedings relative to the late investigation into the conduct of Superintendent Welsher.A joint resolution was adopted cutting off the introduction of new business after February 5th.Bills were introduced amending the revised statutes relative to suits at law maintained by married women; limiting the number of terms that may be held by county treasurers; to amend the revised statutes relative to the writ of habeas corpus.Both houses adjourned till morning.
The Board of University regents is in session this afternoon.

STANDING COMMITTEES OF THE ASSEMBLY.

The following committees were announced last night by Speaker Arnold:On Judiciary—Messrs. Pierce, Hanger, Bradford, Hendry, Ware, Burdette and Sprague.On Ways and Means—Messrs. Ware, Boorse, Conant, Moore and Packard.On Federal Relations—Messrs. Bradley, Palmer, Barnes, Yakey and Kenyon.On Education—Messrs. Bradley, Hanger, Lord,
Well and Craig.On Railroads—Messrs. Bullock, Bradley, Wall, McDonald, Joslin, Lawrence, Beattie, Freeman
and Ketch.On Insurance, Banks and Banking—Messrs.
Stone, Lawrence, Coffey, Fitzgerald and Lathrop.On State Affairs—Messrs. Coffey, Barnes, Sher-don, Eaton, Kingston, Bentley and Fleming.On Privileges and Elections—Messrs. A. Peterson, Ransom, Small, Tierney and Schmidt.On Incorporations—Messrs. Kingston, Hill, Lawrence, McMurdo and Root.On Assessment and Collection of Taxes—Messrs.
Simpson, Allen, Lawrence, Kimball and Cary.On General and Miscellaneous—Messrs. A. Peterson, Ransom, Small, Tierney and Schmidt.On Public Improvements—Messrs. Cox, Minor, Allen, Root and J. C. Peterson.On Militia—Messrs. Hemmehemer, Eckhardt, Barnes, Gunderson and Kennedy.On Agriculture—Messrs. Fritchard, Gilman, Alson, Klotz and Parkinson.On Town and County Organization—Messrs.
Withee, Eckhardt, Phillips, Sedgwick and Place.On Railroads and Bridges—Messrs. Waste, Minor, Gunderson, Hunter and Merritt.On State Lands—Messrs. Burdette, Case, Kelley, Gunderson and Delaney.On Railroad Securities—Messrs. Croso, Lord, Blauchard, Adamson and Helmer.On Legislative Expenses—Messrs. Bradford, Troy, Anderson, Trevelyan and Kellogg.On Engrossed Bills—Messrs. McMill, Wilson, McIntyre, Cox and Blanchard.On Enrolled Bills—Messrs. Ransom, Kuch, D.C.
Williams, Wilcox and Riegler.

JOINT COMMITTEES ON THE PART OF THE ASSEMBLY.

On Claims—Messrs. Kelley, Barnes, Stone, Bentley and Kenyon.On Charitable and Penal Institutions—Messrs.
Hill, C. Williams, Blanchard, Simpson and Cary.On Printing—Messrs. Campbell, Pierce and Sherman.

THE OLD FORT.

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis. Jan. 19.—A fire
this afternoon destroyed the last building remaining of the old Fort Crawford proper.
The building was used as a hoop-pole factory. At about 1 o'clock fire was discovered coming through the roof, and in about two hours nothing was left but the heavy stone walls. For a while the new exhibition hall of St. Mary's Institute was in danger from the heat and sparks, but the exertions of the fire department and the favorable direction of the wind prevented any damage to it.

Nerve.

It is a great thing to have what is called nerve, and nothing contributes more to the power of physical control than nerve.
Warner's Nerve Tonic. It also relieves all kinds of pain, and cures headaches and neuritis.

A Fair Offer.

The Voltaic Belt Company, Marshall,
Michigan, will send their Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and other Appliances to the afflicted upon trial. A sure cure guaranteed for all diseases of a personal nature, Nervous and Debilitated systems resulting from unusual causes. Also, for all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, Rheumatism, Paralysis and many other affections. For full particulars, address as above.
Jan. 18/80

FOR SALE

At Gazette Counting Room,

At a BARGAIN

A NEW IMPROVED

HOWE

SEWING MACHINE

Call and see it.

TO JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

BLANKET of Justice of the Peace, and new and original form.
Official. 6457727 PRINTED.

GROCERIES, &C.

Holiday Groceries,
Holiday Prices!
AT
VANKIRK'SCHEAP CASH GROCERY & TEA
STORE!

23 Main Street, Janesville, Wis.

Best Granulated Sugar.....	11c
Ex C Sugar.....	10c
Choice New Japan Tea.....	45c
Finest.....	30c
Good Y. H. Tea.....	50c
Fine Oolong Tea.....	50c
Good H. G. Coffee.....	11c
Choice.....	10c
Good Java Coffee.....	11c
Full Cream Factory Cheese.....	12c
Pure Baking Powder, warranted.....	30c
Choice Dried Peaches.....	10c
"Blackberries.....	11c
"Smoking Tobacco.....	30c
Best Plug.....	40c
"King.....	40c
New Raisins, very fine.....	9c
Full pounds German Soap.....	10c
3 pound Canned Tomatoes.....	12c
Canned Corn.....	12c
Fancy Candy assorted only.....	30c
English Pickles per Bottle.....	25c
Ohio Cheeses per quart.....	25c
Very fine, $1 per bushel; Best Standard Oysters, 3c per quart case; every can warranted; a liberal discount to dealers and parties.

Fresh Celery!

Received by express daily; Potatoes and all other vegetables very cheap; 100 of those beautiful Couch Shells at 10c each—worth 15c. All other goods in my line at cost and lower than cost. For the next 60 days to reduce stock, I have the largest and best stock of staple and fancy groceries in the city, and will sell lower than any other house in the trade. Come and see me and I will convince you of this fact. Highest price in cash or trade paid for choice Butter and fresh Eggs and good Poultry. Respectfully Yours,
W. T. VANKIRK,
Cheap Cash Grocer & Tea Dealer, Janesville, Wis.
dec17aw1CHRISTMAS
AND
NEW YEARS!

We shall have, and will be glad to fill orders for

Turkeys,	Apples,
Chickens,	Canned Goods,
Confectionary,	Pop Corn,
Nuts,	Sweet Cider,
Oysters,	Fresh Roasted
Celery,	Coffee.
Honey,

From Now Till After the Holidays

N. B.---

We take a great deal

every week. Hoping to receive a continuance your valued favors. We remain

C. F. Randall & Co.

Janesville, Wis.

HEADQUARTERS!

FOR

MALLORY'S

BALTIMORE

OYSTERS!

---AT---

Wholesale and Retail

PARTIES FURNISHED REASONABLE.

ALL KINDS OF

Lamps, Burners

AND

CHIMNEYS!

Good Quality and Cheap.

Dealer in Fruits, Groceries, &c.

JOHN DAVIES,
663 1/2 West Milwaukee Street

T

Best Green Tea.....70c

Best Black Tea.....70c

Choice Japan Tea.....50c

Best Japan Tea.....60c

Our Best Japan Tea

Has a Fine, Delicate Flavor, full strength, a strictly Garden Tea, second to none in the city.

COFFEES.

We have a full stock of Coffees, and are giving

Special Bargains

To those wishing good goods.

Our Stock of

GROCERIES

Are all New and Fresh, and will be sold at the lowest prices. Those wishing good goods will find it to their advantage to call and see our goods and prices.32 West Milwaukee St., CLINE & BARNARD.
oct17aw1

NURSE

Girl Wanted Immediately.

MRS. RICHARD VALENTINE.
Jan 18/80

TUESDAY, JANUARY 20, 1890.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Rail

Trains at Janesville Station.

-ARRIVE-

From Monroe. 8:36 a. m.
From Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. 1:45 p. m.
From Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. 3:40 p. m.
From Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. 5:30 p. m.

-DEPART-

For Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. 8:36 a. m.
For Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. 1:45 p. m.
For Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. 3:40 p. m.
For Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. 5:30 p. m.

A. V. H. CARPENTER, Gen'l Pass. Agent.

Chicago & Northwestern R. R.

Trains at Janesville Station.

-ARRIVE-

From Chicago. 8:36 a. m.
From Chicago. 1:45 p. m.
From Chicago. 3:40 p. m.
From Chicago. 5:30 p. m.

-DEPART-

For Chicago. 8:36 a. m.
For Chicago. 1:45 p. m.
For Chicago. 3:40 p. m.
For Chicago. 5:30 p. m.

M. HUGHETT, Gen'l Supt.

W. H. STENNETT, General Passenger Agent.

JANESVILLE STATION.

WESTERN UNION RAILROAD.

TIME TABLE AT CLINTON JUNCTION.

West Bound.

Day Express. 10:55 A. M.
Night Express. 10:10 P. M.
Accommodation. 3:10 P. M.

East Bound.

Day Express. 5:30 P. M.
Night Express. 5:35 A. M.
Accommodation. 10:10 P. M.

D. A. OLIN, Gen'l Supt.

JANESVILLE STATION.

Post-Office--Summer Time Table.

The mails arrive at the Janesville Post Office as follows:

Chicago and Way. 1:30 p. m.
Madison and Milwaukee. 7 a. m.
Chicago Through, Night via Milton and Watertown Junctions. 7:30 a. m.
Chicago and Way. 7:30 a. m.
Chicago and Way. 7:30 a. m.
Chicago and Way. 7:30 a. m.

Mails close at the Janesville Post Office as follows:

Madison and Milwaukee. 8 p. m.
Chicago Through, Night via Milton and Watertown Junctions. 8:30 p. m.
Chicago and Way. 8:30 p. m.
Chicago and Way. 8:30 p. m.
Chicago and Way. 8:30 p. m.

OVERLAND MAIL SERVICE.

Centre and Leyden, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. 12:00 m.
Emerald Grove, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. 12:00 m.
East Troy, via Johnston, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. 6:00 a. m.
Bellevue, Tuesdays. 11:00 a. m.

Mails close at the Janesville Post Office as follows:

Madison and Milwaukee. 8 p. m.
Chicago Through, Night via Milton and Watertown Junctions. 8:30 p. m.
Chicago and Way. 8:30 p. m.
Chicago and Way. 8:30 p. m.
Chicago and Way. 8:30 p. m.

JANESVILLE STATION.

Post-Office House.

Bellevue stage. 4:00 p. m.

Centre and Leyden, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. 3:00 p. m.

East Troy, via Johnston, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. 7:00 a. m.

Emerald Grove and Fairview, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. 2:00 p. m.

JANESVILLE STATION.

Daily from 8:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m. On Sundays from 12:00 to 1:00 p. m. On Monday and Tuesday from 12:00 to 1:00 p. m. On Wednesday from 12:00 to 1:00 p. m. On Thursday from 12:00 to 1:00 p. m. On Friday from 12:00 to 1:00 p. m. On Saturday from 12:00 to 1:00 p. m.

On Saturday night only, a through coach from Chicago to Janesville, via the Rock Island and Chicago and North Western roads, will be run on Monday morning only, a through coach made up and forwarded to Chicago on the 7 o'clock train.

By reading this table carefully, the public can post themselves thoroughly upon the arrival and departure of all the mails, and thus avoid much inconvenience to themselves.

H. A. PATTERSON, P. M.

JANESVILLE, Nov. 1st, 1879.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL DRAMA.

An Instance Showing How the Theatre and Sunday School Will Not Mix.

New York Times.

The attempt to combine the Sunday school and the theatre is always a doubtful experiment. The two ingredients can rarely be united so as to produce a satisfactory result. Either there is too much Sunday school for the amount of theatre, in which case the entertainment is unspeakably dreary, or else there is too much theatre in proportion to Sunday school, in which case the performance becomes objectionably worldly.

Great things were anticipated unreasonably of course, by the congregation of the Williston Congregational church in regard to the representation of the Scriptural play of "Elisha," Monday night. The play was written by the Sunday school superintendent's wife, who was a clever woman of no little literary skill, and the pastor and members of the Prudential committee, who heard it read were greatly impressed with its merits. The lecture room, with a temporary stage and a red drop curtain, made a neat little theatre, which was crowded half an hour before the performance began. The curtain rose upon the scene representing a shady valley with a high hill in the background, up which a practicable and very steep road ran. On each side of the stage was a dense forest of ten or twelve trees and a country tavern, with a sign "Railway Hotel," stood on the hillside. In front of the tavern forty-two children--who constitute nearly the whole strength of the Sunday school--were engaged in various games. Some of them were pitching quoits, others were playing marbles. All were quarrelling fiercely, and from their appearance, were children of the very meanest character, and most curiously ragged clothes. To them presently entered from the right lower entrance the prophet Elisha, carrying his hat in his hand, in order to display his total lack of hair. He was a large prophet, with a long white beard and a walking stick of great size; but there is no doubt that he would have looked better had he been provided with a little hair. As he passed the "railway hotel," he stopped to ask the way to the nearest postoffice, but it is painful to relate that the boys refused to give him a civil answer. In fact they chaffed the prophet and made allusions to his lack of hair, which were both personal and rude. The good man betrayed no anger, but he told them that their disrespect to their parents by their conduct, to which they with one accord triumphantly answered that they "hadn't got none," and that they were "orphans." Greatly disgusted by this repartee, the prophet shook his stick sadly but kindly at them, and proceeded on his way. The wicked children continued to yell after him, advising him to buy a wig, or try somebody's hair, and in other ways, continued to tease him. He ceased to be a virtue, Elisha paused and whistled loudly, whereupon two frightful bears issued from the forest, and falling upon the children, began to tear them to pieces.

All would perhaps have gone well, had not one of the wicked boys refused to be torn. The others had promptly taken to the ground, but this one boy, who was subsequently appeared, had been borrowed at the last moment from the Methodist Sunday school, and who had not attended the rehearsal, showed fight. He caught up a stick which happened to be at hand, and hit the first bear with a resounding whack over the head, drawing from that astonished animal the exclamation, "By gosh!" Leaving the forty-two prostrate children, the rescued hero rose on his hind legs and hit the borrowed boy a beautiful blow straight from his shoulder. The two then rushed together, and fought all over the stage, while the other bear, yielding to the excitement of the moment, encouraged his associate brute by loudly requesting him to "go in," and by offering to bet 10 cents on his success with any one who might be willing to put up the money. The prophet, in view of the uproar, turned back, and belabored both bears and the borrowed boy with his stick with great impartiality, until all three cried for quarter. It was while he was engaged in this praiseworthy work that he accidentally knocked down the chandelier with his stick, and thereby created an alarm of fire, which speedily emptied the house and brought the entertainment to a close.

The father of both bears have since sued the prophet for assault and battery and the whole congregation is divided over the question whether the prophet had the right to thrash other people's bears in public, no matter if the latter had yielded to strong temptation to induce an unexpected realism into the drama. However this may be decided, there is no doubt that the play is a failure, and it is to be hoped that it will have some little influence in inducing Sunday school superintendents to abstain from complicating religious instruction with amateur theatricals.

MISCELLANEOUS.

AND STILL THEY COME.

Another large invoice of choice

Fancy Groceries

Hell Gate Sauce

Arrived this morning from New York. Chy-loung's Preserved Canton Ginger in Porcelain Jars, only 35 cts a Jar. De la mentes

PRESERVED FIGS!

Hazard's Cassava for Puddings; Huntley & Palmers' Wafers, Queen Oliver; a

Cask of C. & B. Pickles

At greatly reduced prices, a case of very fine French Pickles. Also a case of the Celebrated

King Segars

Respectfully Yours,

J. A. JENNISTON.

JANESVILLE, Nov. 1st, 1879.

TURKEYS

The undersigned announces to the Poultry growers of Rock and adjoining counties, that they are now in the field again, and shall buy all the prime fat offered them during the Poultry season. Turkeys taken either at or dressed. We shall at all times pay the highest price in cash that the market will afford.

Turkeys, Geese and Ducks

Every bird found at our old quarters, No. 3 Main Street, where we hope to see all of our old customers, and lots of new ones.

Yours Respectfully,

G. W. HAWES, nov24dawm

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL DRAMA.

An Instance Showing How the Theatre and Sunday School Will Not Mix.

New York Times.

The attempt to combine the Sunday school and the theatre is always a doubtful experiment. The two ingredients can rarely be united so as to produce a satisfactory result. Either there is too much Sunday school for the amount of theatre, in which case the entertainment is unspeakably dreary, or else there is too much theatre in proportion to Sunday school, in which case the performance becomes objectionably worldly.

Great things were anticipated unreasonably of course, by the congregation of the Williston Congregational church in regard to the representation of the Scriptural play of "Elisha," Monday night. The play was written by the Sunday school superintendent's wife, who was a clever woman of no little literary skill, and the pastor and members of the Prudential committee, who heard it read were greatly impressed with its merits. The lecture room, with a temporary stage and a red drop curtain, made a neat little theatre, which was crowded half an hour before the performance began. The curtain rose upon the scene representing a shady valley with a high hill in the background, up which a practicable and very steep road ran. On each side of the stage was a dense forest of ten or twelve trees and a country tavern, with a sign "Railway Hotel," stood on the hillside. In front of the tavern forty-two children--who constitute nearly the whole strength of the Sunday school--were engaged in various games. Some of them were pitching quoits, others were playing marbles. All were quarrelling fiercely, and from their appearance, were children of the very meanest character, and most curiously ragged clothes. To them presently entered from the right lower entrance the prophet Elisha, carrying his hat in his hand, in order to display his total lack of hair. He was a large prophet, with a long white beard and a walking stick of great size; but there is no doubt that he would have looked better had he been provided with a little hair. As he passed the "railway hotel," he stopped to ask the way to the nearest postoffice, but it is painful to relate that the boys refused to give him a civil answer. In fact they chaffed the prophet and made allusions to his lack of hair, which were both personal and rude. The good man betrayed no anger, but he told them that their disrespect to their parents by their conduct, to which they with one accord triumphantly answered that they "hadn't got none," and that they were "orphans." Greatly disgusted by this repartee, the prophet shook his stick sadly but kindly at them, and proceeded on his way. The wicked children continued to yell after him, advising him to buy a wig, or try somebody's hair, and in other ways, continued to tease him. He ceased to be a virtue, Elisha paused and whistled loudly, whereupon two frightful bears issued from the forest, and falling upon the children, began to tear them to pieces.

All would perhaps have gone well, had not one of the wicked boys refused to be torn. The others had promptly taken to the ground, but this one boy, who was subsequently appeared, had been borrowed at the last moment from the Methodist Sunday school, and who had not attended the rehearsal, showed fight. He caught up a stick which happened to be at hand, and hit the first bear with a resounding whack over the head, drawing from that astonished animal the exclamation, "By gosh!" Leaving the forty-two prostrate children, the rescued hero rose on his hind legs and hit the borrowed boy a beautiful blow straight from his shoulder. The two then rushed together, and fought all over the stage, while the other bear, yielding to the excitement of the moment, encouraged his associate brute by loudly requesting him to "go in," and by offering to bet 10 cents on his success with any one who might be willing to put up the money. The prophet, in view of the uproar, turned back, and belabored both bears and the borrowed boy with his stick with great impartiality, until all three cried for quarter. It was while he was engaged in this praiseworthy work that he accidentally knocked down the chandelier with his stick, and thereby created an alarm of fire, which speedily emptied the house and brought the entertainment to a close.

The father of both bears have since sued the prophet for assault and battery and the whole congregation is divided over the question whether the prophet had the right to thrash other people's bears in public, no matter if the latter had yielded to strong temptation to induce an unexpected realism into the drama. However this may be decided, there is no doubt that the play is a failure, and it is to be hoped that it will have some little influence in inducing Sunday school superintendents to abstain from complicating religious instruction with amateur theatricals.

MISCELLANEOUS.

AND STILL THEY COME.

Another large invoice of choice

Fancy Groceries

Hell Gate Sauce

Arrived this morning from New York. Chy-loung's Preserved Canton Ginger in Porcelain Jars, only 35 cts a Jar. De la mentes

PRESERVED FIGS!

Hazard's Cassava for Puddings; Huntley & Palmers' Wafers, Queen Oliver; a

Cask of C. & B. Pickles

At greatly reduced prices, a case of very fine French Pickles. Also a case of the Celebrated

King Segars

Respectfully Yours,

J. A. JENNISTON.

JANESVILLE, Nov. 1st, 1879.

TURKEYS

The undersigned announces to the Poultry growers of Rock and adjoining counties, that they are now in the field again, and shall buy all the prime fat

Turkeys, Geese and Ducks

offered them during the Poultry season. Turkeys taken either at or dressed. We shall at all times pay the highest price in cash that the market will afford.

Every bird found at our old quarters, No. 3 Main Street, where we hope to see all of our old customers, and lots of new ones.

Yours Respectfully,

G. W. HAWES, nov24dawm

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL DRAMA.

An Instance Showing How the Theatre and Sunday School Will Not Mix.

New York Times.

The attempt to combine the Sunday school and the theatre is always a doubtful experiment. The two ingredients can rarely be united so as to produce a satisfactory result. Either there is too much Sunday school for the amount of theatre, in which case the entertainment is unspeakably dreary, or else there is too much theatre in proportion to Sunday school, in which case the performance becomes objectionably worldly.

Great things were anticipated unreasonably of course, by the congregation of the Williston Congregational church in regard to the representation of the Scriptural play of "Elisha," Monday night. The play was written by the Sunday school superintendent's wife, who was a clever woman of no little literary skill, and the pastor and members of the Prudential committee, who heard it read were greatly impressed with its merits. The lecture room, with a temporary stage and a red drop curtain, made a neat little theatre, which was crowded half an hour before the performance began. The curtain rose upon the scene representing a shady valley with a high hill in the background, up which a practicable and very steep road ran. On each side of the stage was a dense forest of ten or twelve trees and a country tavern, with a sign "Railway Hotel," stood on the hillside. In front of the tavern forty-two children--who constitute nearly the whole strength of the Sunday school--were engaged in various games. Some of them were pitching quoits, others were playing marbles. All were quarrelling fiercely, and from their appearance, were children of the very meanest character, and most curiously ragged clothes. To them presently entered from the right lower entrance the prophet Elisha, carrying his hat in his hand, in order to display his total lack of hair. He was a large prophet, with a long white beard and a walking stick of great size; but there is no doubt that he would have looked better had he been provided with a little hair. As he passed the "railway hotel," he stopped to ask the way to the nearest postoffice, but it is painful to relate that the boys refused to give him a civil answer. In fact they chaffed the prophet and made allusions to his lack of hair, which were both personal and rude. The good man betrayed no anger, but he told them that their disrespect to their parents by their conduct, to which they with one accord triumphantly answered that they "hadn't got none," and that they were "orphans." Greatly disgusted by this repartee, the prophet shook his stick sadly but kindly at them, and proceeded on his way. The wicked children continued to yell after him, advising him to buy a wig, or try somebody's hair, and in other ways, continued to tease him. He ceased to be a virtue, Elisha paused and whistled loudly, whereupon two frightful bears issued from the forest, and falling upon the children, began to tear them to pieces.

All would perhaps have gone well, had not one of the wicked boys refused to be torn. The others had promptly taken to the ground, but this one boy, who was subsequently appeared, had been borrowed at the last moment from the Methodist Sunday school, and who had not attended the rehearsal, showed fight. He caught up a stick which happened to be at hand, and hit the first bear with a resounding whack over the head, drawing from that astonished animal the exclamation, "By gosh!" Leaving the forty-two prostrate children, the rescued hero rose on his hind legs and hit the borrowed boy a beautiful blow straight from his shoulder. The two then rushed together, and fought all over the stage, while the other bear, yielding to the excitement of the moment, encouraged his associate brute by loudly requesting him to "go in," and by offering to bet 10 cents on his success with any one who might be willing to put up the money. The prophet, in view of the uproar, turned back, and belabored both bears and the borrowed boy with his stick with great impartiality, until all three cried for quarter. It was while he was engaged in this praiseworthy work that he accidentally knocked down the chandelier with his stick, and thereby created an alarm of fire, which speedily emptied the house and brought the entertainment to a close.

The father of both bears have since sued the prophet for assault and battery and the whole congregation is divided over the question whether the prophet had the right to thrash other people's bears in public, no matter if the latter had yielded to strong temptation to induce an unexpected realism into the drama. However this may be decided, there is no doubt that the play is a failure, and it is to be hoped that it will have some little influence in inducing Sunday school superintendents to abstain from complicating religious instruction with amateur theatricals.

MISCELLANEOUS.

AND STILL THEY COME.

Another large invoice of choice

Fancy Groceries

Hell Gate Sauce

Arrived this morning from New York. Chy-loung's Preserved Canton Ginger in Porcelain Jars, only 35 cts a Jar. De la mentes

PRESERVED FIGS!

Hazard's Cassava for Puddings; Huntley & Palmers' Wafers, Queen Oliver; a

Cask of C. & B. Pickles

At greatly reduced prices, a case of very fine French Pickles. Also a case of the Celebrated

King Segars

Respectfully Yours,

J. A. JENNISTON.

JANESVILLE, Nov. 1st, 1879.

TURKEYS

The undersigned announces to the Poultry growers of Rock and adjoining counties, that they are now in the field again, and shall buy all the prime fat

Turkeys, Geese and Ducks

offered them during the Poultry season. Turkeys taken either at or dressed. We shall at all times pay the highest price in cash that the market will afford.

Every bird found at our old quarters, No. 3 Main Street, where we hope to see all of our old customers, and lots of new ones.

Yours Respectfully,

G. W. HAWES, nov24dawm

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL DRAMA.

An Instance Showing How the Theatre and Sunday School Will Not Mix.

New York Times.

The attempt to combine the Sunday school and the theatre is always a doubtful experiment. The two ingredients can rarely be united so as to produce a satisfactory result. Either there is too much Sunday school for the amount of theatre, in which case the entertainment is unspeakably dreary, or else there is too much theatre in proportion to Sunday school, in which case the performance becomes objectionably worldly.

Great things were anticipated unreasonably of course, by the congregation of the Williston Congregational church in regard to the representation of the Scriptural play of "Elisha," Monday night. The play was written by the Sunday school superintendent's wife, who was a clever woman of no little literary skill, and the pastor and members of the Prudential committee, who heard it read were greatly impressed with its merits. The lecture room, with a temporary stage and a red drop curtain, made a neat little theatre, which was crowded half an hour before the performance began. The curtain rose upon the scene representing a shady valley with a high hill in the background, up which a practicable and very steep road ran. On each side of the stage was a dense forest of ten or twelve trees and a country tavern, with a sign "Railway Hotel," stood on the hillside. In front of the tavern forty-two children--who constitute nearly the whole strength of the Sunday school--were engaged in various games. Some of them were pitching quoits, others were playing marbles. All were quarrelling fiercely, and from their appearance, were children of the very meanest character, and most curiously ragged clothes. To them presently entered from the right lower entrance the prophet Elisha, carrying his hat in his hand, in order to display his total lack of hair. He was a large prophet, with a long white beard and a walking stick of great size; but there is no doubt that he would have looked better had he been provided with a little hair. As he passed the "railway hotel," he stopped to ask the way to the nearest postoffice, but it is painful to relate that the boys refused to give him a civil answer. In fact they chaffed the prophet and made allusions to his lack of hair, which were both personal and rude. The good man betrayed no anger, but he told them that their disrespect to their parents by their conduct, to which they with one accord triumphantly answered that they "hadn't got none," and that they were "orphans." Greatly disgusted by this repartee, the prophet shook his stick sadly but kindly at them, and proceeded on his way. The wicked children continued to yell after him, advising him to buy a wig, or try somebody's hair, and in other ways, continued to tease him. He ceased to be a virtue, Elisha paused and whistled loudly, whereupon two frightful bears issued from the forest, and falling upon the children, began to tear them to pieces.

All would perhaps have gone well, had not one of the wicked boys refused to be torn. The others had promptly taken to the ground, but this one boy, who was subsequently appeared, had been borrowed at the last moment from the Methodist Sunday school, and who had not attended the rehearsal, showed fight. He caught up a stick which happened to be at hand, and hit the first bear with a resounding whack over the head, drawing from that astonished animal the exclamation, "By gosh!" Leaving the forty-two prostrate children, the rescued hero rose on his hind legs and hit the borrowed boy a beautiful blow straight from his shoulder. The two then rushed together, and fought all over the stage, while the other bear, yielding to the excitement of the moment, encouraged his associate brute by loudly requesting him to "go in," and by offering to bet 10 cents on his success with any one who might be willing to put up the money. The prophet, in view of the uproar, turned back, and belabored both bears and the borrowed boy with his stick with great impartiality, until all three cried for quarter. It was while he was engaged in this praiseworthy work that he accidentally knocked down the chandelier with his stick, and thereby created an alarm of fire, which speedily emptied the house and brought the entertainment to a close.

The father of both bears have since sued the prophet for assault and battery and the whole congregation is divided over the question whether the prophet had the right to thrash other people's bears in public, no matter if the latter had yielded to strong temptation to induce an unexpected realism into the drama. However this may be decided, there is no doubt that the play is a failure, and it is to be hoped that it will have some little influence in inducing Sunday school superintendents to abstain from complicating religious instruction with amateur theatricals.

MISCELLANEOUS.

AND STILL THEY COME.

Another large invoice of choice

Fancy Groceries

Hell Gate Sauce

Arrived this morning from New York. Chy-loung's Preserved Canton Ginger in Porcelain Jars, only 35 cts a Jar. De la mentes

PRESERVED FIGS!

Hazard's Cassava for Puddings; Huntley & Palmers' Wafers, Queen Oliver; a

Cask of C. & B. Pickles

At greatly reduced prices, a case of very fine French Pickles. Also a case of the Celebrated

King Segars

Respectfully Yours,

J. A. JENNISTON.

JANESVILLE, Nov. 1st, 1879.

TURKEYS

The undersigned announces to the Poultry growers of Rock and adjoining counties, that they are now in the field again, and shall buy all the prime fat

Turkeys, Geese and Ducks

offered them during the Poultry season. Turkeys taken either at or dressed. We shall at all times pay the highest price in cash that the market will afford.

Every bird found at our old quarters, No. 3 Main Street, where we hope to see all of our old customers, and lots of new ones.

Yours Respectfully,

G. W. HAWES, nov24dawm

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL DRAMA.

An Instance Showing How the Theatre and Sunday School Will Not Mix.

New York Times.

The attempt to combine the Sunday school and the theatre is always a doubtful experiment. The two ingredients can rarely be united so as to produce a satisfactory result. Either there is too much Sunday school for the amount of theatre, in which case the entertainment is unspeakably dreary, or else there is too much theatre in proportion to Sunday school, in which case the performance becomes objectionably worldly.

Great things were anticipated unreasonably of course, by the congregation of the Williston Congregational church in regard to the representation of the Scriptural play of "Elisha," Monday night. The play was written by the Sunday school superintendent's wife, who was a clever woman of no little literary skill, and the pastor and members of the Prudential committee, who heard it read were greatly impressed with its merits. The lecture room, with a temporary stage and a red drop curtain, made a neat little theatre, which was crowded half an hour before the performance began. The curtain rose upon the scene representing a shady valley with a high hill in the background, up which a practicable and very steep road ran. On each side of the stage was a dense forest of ten or twelve trees and a country tavern, with a sign "Railway Hotel," stood on the hillside. In front of the tavern forty-two children--who constitute nearly the whole strength of the Sunday school--were engaged in various games. Some of them were pitching quoits, others were playing marbles. All were quarrelling fiercely, and from their appearance, were children of the very meanest character, and most curiously ragged clothes. To them presently entered from the right lower entrance the prophet Elisha, carrying his hat in his hand, in order to display his total lack of hair. He was a large prophet, with a long white beard and a walking stick of great size; but there is no doubt that he would have looked better had he been provided with a little hair. As he passed the "railway hotel," he stopped to ask the way to the nearest postoffice, but it is painful to relate that the boys refused to give him a civil answer. In fact they chaffed the prophet and made allusions to his lack of hair, which were both personal and rude. The good man betrayed no anger, but he told them that their disrespect to their parents by their conduct, to which they with one accord triumphantly answered that they "hadn't got none," and that they were "orphans." Greatly disgusted by this repartee, the prophet shook his stick sadly but kindly at them, and proceeded on his way. The wicked children continued to yell after him, advising him to buy a wig, or try somebody's hair, and in other ways, continued to tease him. He ceased to be a virtue, Elisha paused and whistled loudly, whereupon two frightful bears issued from the forest, and falling upon the children, began to tear them to pieces.

All would perhaps have gone well, had not one of the wicked boys refused to be torn. The others had promptly taken to the ground, but this one boy, who was subsequently appeared, had been borrowed at the last moment from the Methodist Sunday school, and who had not attended the rehearsal, showed fight. He caught up a stick which happened to be at hand, and hit the first bear with a resounding whack over the head, drawing from that astonished animal the exclamation, "By gosh!" Leaving the forty-two prostrate children, the rescued hero rose on his hind legs and hit the borrowed boy a beautiful blow straight from his shoulder. The two then

Caution.

A WORD TO THOSE WHO USE POROUS PLASTERS. It is a universally acknowledged fact that BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTERS ARE SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS. The great demand for them has caused a number of unscrupulous parties to make and sell worthless imitations under the name of Capcine or Capcins. As the market is flooded with inferior plasters selling at any price it is important for the consumer to know which is the best. It is well known that some of the cheap plasters have been examined and found to contain injurious ingredients which make them dangerous to use, causing paralysis and other diseases. All genuine BENSON'S CAPCINE PLASTERS have the word CAPCINE put in them. SEABURY & JOHNSON, PHARMACEUTICAL CHEMISTS, NEW YORK. PRICE 25 CTS. 2144w deod

ADVERTISEMENTS.

ADVERTISEMENTS IN THIS COLUMN are inserted at the rate of 25 cents per line. No advertisement less than 25 cents. Four lines one week 75 cents.

NEW BLANKS.

A FIDELITY FOR ORDER OF PUBLICATION OF SUMMONS, AND ORDER FOR PUBLICATION OF SUMMONS IN CIRCUIT COURT. This blank has been carefully prepared by Judge Conger, and for sale at Gazette Office.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE-A SET OF COUNTER SCALES as good as new. Price Ten Dollars. Call at GAZETTE PRINTING CO.

FOR SALE-TWO LOTS ON BLUFF STREET

adjoining John Ehrlinger's. Will be sold on easy terms. R. L. COLVIN, Agent.

MISCELLANEOUS

E. V. WHITON & CO.

(Successors to A. C. Palmer & Son.)

GENERAL DEALERS IN

DRUGS.

PATENT MEDICINES,

Paints, Oils, Glass,

PURTY, VARNISHES and

MACHINE OILS

We keep a large stock of

FANCY & TOILET Articles!

BRUSHES OF ALL KINDS,

HANDKERCHIEF EXTRACTS,

COLOGNES, HAIR OILS,

TRUSSES AND

SHOULDER BRACES.

Call and See Us!

and we will try and make it your interest to do your trading at

Palmer's Old Stand

sepidaily

DOOMED!

HIGH PRICES ON

Boots and Shoes,

Gloves and Mittens

How is it that

A. RICHARDSON & BRO.

Sell Boots and Shoes so Low?

Because they buy for cash in large quantities, pay no rent,

do their own work, and of course

they can sell cheap. Give them a call at 13 West Milwaukee St.,

Janesville, Wis.

sepidaily

WARNER'S

SAFE

KIDNEY & LIVER

CURE

A vegetable preparation and the only safe

remedy in the world for Bright's Disease,

Diabetes, and ALL Kidney, Liver and

Urinary Disorders of the highest order in proof of these statements.

For the cure of Diabetes, call for Warner's Safe Kidney Cure.

For the cure of Bright's and other diseases, call for Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure.

Warner's

Safe Kidney

Cure

is sold by Druggists

and Dealers

in Medicine

everywhere.

H. H. WARNER & CO.,

Proprietors,

Rochester, N. Y.

See Sent for Pamphlet

and Testimonials.

DR. A. G. OLIN

MARRIAGE GUIDE

Private Marriage Guide, containing

all the latest and most reliable information on all matters relating to the marriage of men and women.

It is a valuable and reliable guide for all who are about to enter into the holy state of marriage. It is sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

Price, 25 cents.

JOHNSTON'S

GREAT WESTERN WORKS

PITTSBURGH, PA.

Write for Free Illustrated Catalogue.

CELLULOSE

How this Remarkable Material is

Made-The Use to Which it is Being

Put.

Journal of Industry.

Cellulose is one of the most remarkable

of modern inventions, and bids fair to

be not less extensively or variously used

than vulcanized rubber. It is produced by mixing gum camphor with a pulp of gun

THE GAZETTE.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 20, 1880.

MILTON.

-This (Thursday) evening Prof. T. S.

Barrett, of Chicago, and Miss Lucy L.

Barrett, of Rockford, will give a concert

and reading at College chapel, under the auspices of the Philomathean Society.

Prof. Barrett is a fine vocalist and a charming professor, and Miss Barrett is a noted

clowness, being highly recommended by the press of New York, Boston and Chicago. The entertainment will be one of the events of the winter and no one can afford to miss hearing it. Admission twenty cents.

-Superintendent Whitford was unable to attend the annual meeting of the Union

College Alumni Association which met in this city on the 13th inst. and sent a letter of regret. He graduated in Union College in the class of '53. -Chicago Times.

-C. F. Lane, proprietor of the Northwestern seed warehouse and apary at

Koshkonong, has sold his large seed business to Messrs. Metcalf & Co., of St. Paul.

He will now devote his whole time to his apary business and now has, in connection with his father, nearly two hundred swarms of bees and intends to increase the number largely the coming season.

-Hear the concert and reading at College chapel this evening.

-Dr. E. S. Bailey, of Chicago, was in town last Tuesday evening, making a visit to his relatives. He finds his time so fully occupied with his professional

duties that long visits are an impossibility.

The Doctor is looking hale and hearty and his friends here enjoyed the opportunity of meeting him once more.

-W. S. Alexander, of St. Paul, was in town last week visiting his parents.

-The Seventh-day Baptist social convened at Mrs. De Luss Crandall's last

Thursday evening and was quite largely attended. The exercises included some excellent quartet singing and two charming recitations by Misses Kittie Barless and

C. E. Dunn.

-Prof. B. St. John is an artist on the Kimball piano. Hear him at College chapel

this evening.

-On Friday morning the three o'clock

freight train going west ran off the track

at Vicksburg's crossing, two miles east of this village. One car went down the bank, landing bottom side up, and trains going east were delayed for several hours. The derailment was caused by a coal

car being loaded with too much coal.

-We clip the following items of interest to our tobacco growing readers from the Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter:

Capt. O. P. Sanders is ahead on tobacco growing. At least he makes a better showing than we ever heard of in this State.

Last year he raised seven acres of the Pennsylvania variety, which he has finished stripping, and the crop weighs

2,700 pounds, or 2,955 3/4 pounds to the acre, for which he received 8 cents per pound, making his crop net him $230.67 3/4

per acre, and $1,656.72 for the crop.

-Isaac Bliven now walks to the front with the premium growth of Spanish tobacco in Wisconsin, and makes a showing that is truly astonishing. Last year he raised three and one-half acres, which he has lately finished stripping and casing,

and whose weighed aggregated 6,670 pounds

for which he received 16 cents a pound,

making the crop of three and one-half acres net him $1,057.20. He can go up to the head.

-Arch Alexander has been quite sick

with an attack of diphtheria, but is able to be out again at the present writing.

-The January number of the College

Journal was mailed this week. It is an interesting number.

-A McNeil, who has been on the sick list, is able to saw bones and cut steak

again.

-Three Swedes that beat some, namely,

Isaac, his "better-half," and the baby boy,

and the "number" beat added grandly

"David," who feels as proud of the youngster as any of the family-it not more so.

-Hear Miss Barrett recite "Creeds of the Bells," at College Chapel, this evening.

-"Scrap Iron Bill" was in town last week, buying everything that he could go lay his eyes on.

-Some swat that stole a quantity of clothing from the premises of W. I. Weaver, on the night of the 12th inst. The clothes were hanging on the line in his yard. A charge of snaf would have found a suitable lodging place in that fellow's side.

-Mrs. W. D. Tucker, of Sullivan, was in town last week visiting friends.

-Do not fail to hear Miss Barrett read at College Chapel this evening. It will pay you.

-W. P. Clarke was in Madison last

Wednesday, on business connected with the application of Sidney Hurd for a pa-

tid. The papers are now in the Governor's hands.

-It is said that A. B. Allen, who runs the bakery, has left the country. If this be the case, there are a number of his creditors who are decidedly out of luck. His wife and infant child are deserving of much sympathy in such an event, as the household could even to get help, was mortgaged to raise funds to embark in the bakery business here, and she will be left quite alone.

-C. W. Hamilton and wife, of Milwaukee, were in town this week, visiting their relatives.

-The union revival meetings were held at the Methodist church every evening last week, and were liberally patronized. The interest is reported as increasing, and several more for prayers. This week meetings are being held at the Congregational church. Revs. Edgerton and Dunn

turn the services, and Rev. Louis takes charge.

-Train Dispatcher Collins came out

Sunday, with a derrick, and pulled the wrecked car out of the ditch at Vicksburg.

-Last Sunday was as beautiful a January day as the oldest inhabitant ever saw,

but was not calculated to make ice packers remarkably happy.

-The "Hoodlums" were out Sunday night, and the anti-social practice of unhinging gates and throwing them into the street was indulged in. It is surprising that the men and boys of this electric light age can be content to engage in the work of gate slinging, something that any idiot can do as well as they. If the sons of the best citizens, who are well educated and have a good natural ability, cannot originate something in the line of devils, that has the merit of novelty to say the least, they had better shoot themselves and leave the gate dodger to those who are hated and not possessed of sufficient

bravado to get up something new & worthy of the age in which they live. Those who destroy property should be prosecuted to the full extent of the law, no matter whose sons they may be, and their names be given to the public.

-Prof. Boston will play "Sweet By and

By" and "Home Sweet Home" at the entertainment this evening.

CELLULOSE.

How this Remarkable Material is

Made-The Use to Which it is Being

Put.

Journal of Industry.

Cellulose is one of the most remarkable

of modern inventions, and bids fair to

be not less extensively or variously used

than vulcanized rubber. It is produced by mixing gum camphor with a pulp of gun

cotton, and subjecting the combination to a high degree of pressure and heat. The result is a hard product of extraordinary toughness and elasticity. It can be made plastic again and molded into any required form. Any color can be given to it by the use of coloring matter during the process of manufacture. The uses to which celluloid is put are numerous and are constantly increasing. It is extensively used as a substitute for ivory, which it resembles so closely that it is sometimes difficult to detect the difference. It is said to equal ivory in strength and elasticity,

and not to warp or discolor with time. It has proved a good material for piano and

organ keys, billiard balls, backs of brushes,

looking glasses, frames, handles for knives,

forks, umbrellas, and many other articles.

It is much cheaper than ivory,

